A certain other class of men have as ambition always to vote on the winning side, and it is not an unusual thing to hear men boast of "never having lost a vote." Others again are influenced to vote rather by the expectation and hope of office than by the promise thereof.

We desire to say a few plain words to this last mentioned class of voters. We have now neither time nor inclination for political coquetry. We come with strictly honorable intentions. We mean business

There is a certain class of men looking to future benefit, from Federal patronage, when Greeley shall be President, who yet are unwilling to deprive themselves of all hope in case Grant shall be re-elected. These men, therefore, intimate or declare more or less openly their preference for Greeley at the same time that they express curse the South and were not merely the They flatter themselves that by this They think to themselves to say, if Greeley be elected, "We were always for selves room to "hedge" against the November election by voting for Caldwell.

Nothing can be better settled than the fact, that no man who honestly desires the extended in the selection of the man who election of Greeley can, with his senses about him, vote for Caldwell. It may, perhaps, be well for parties who expect or hope for office under Greeley, to consider whether the fact of their having voted for Caldwell will smooth their road. It may be well for them to think what answer they can give, when getting up recommendations for office, if they should be asked the question: Did you not support Caldwell, the representative man of the corruption and force and anti-peace and anticonciliation party, when every sane man in North Carolina knew that every vote iven for Caldwell, in August, was more than equal to two votes given for Grant and against Greeley in November?

Let this class of men, we say, who are "expecting" office, consider the matter a in magnitude. In every State and in every county, men who have hitherto sustained the shoals of "Greelev republicane" there the shoals of "Greeley republicans" there will be after Merrimon is elected.

Interesting Experiment. The Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific R. R. Co. has made an experiment which by its successful result seems to have solved the labor question so far as that corporation is concerned. Several months ago the superintendent initiated the plan of paying the employes of the company by the hour. The mecanics in the shops of the company were all paid this standard, while engineers and other was adopted with universal applause and train men were paid according to the number of miles they ran. The latter plan. although obviously liable to produce ine qualities of compensation, is said to have worked satisfactorily, so that in busy seasons the engineers made as much as $150

In the shops the men were employed all through the season, but worked a reduced number of hours, while in slack times they were also employed fewer hours, instead of being discharged. At first some of the workmen objected, but a trial of the scheme is said to have convinced all of them of its fairness. It affords the corporation a perowes him a debt which she should be swift fect protection against strikes, and removes all causes of ill-feeling between the employers and the employed. The success To some extent the same mode of payment is practiced by the Reading Railroad Company. The brakesmen, and probably the engineers and conductors, are paid by the number of trips made.

land, Ohio, is stirred to its deepest depths by the particulars of a very sad affair, in which the names of two very respectable families are involved. It seems that a few years ago a wealthy gentleman named Barrou residing in the former place, and believing truly enough that there was a world of wealth concealed beneath the mountains of Vermont in the shape of pure white marble, he began the task of getting DON'T HAWK, HAWK, SPIT, SPIT, it out for market. The business was then stood as it is now. Mr. Barron failed and was reduced to comparative poverty. He prosperity he had been to them a fond and indulgent parent, and had given them an education which would have fitted them to adorn any society in the world. One of devotion, determined not only to support maintenance of the family, and pushing out to Cleveland, soon succeeded finding employment as a teacher. It is seldom that girls of such resolute will fall prey to the tempter. But it seem Miss Barron met her evil fate there in the person of a young man named Williams, the son of a wealthy gentleman, though he bimself was a bankrupt. They became enamored of each other, but the story of their stolen interviews and earnest longings is only known to themselves. One day Williams went to the river to bathe, leaving his clothes in the boat. He never returned to his home; the next day the boat and clothes were found, and all Cleveland bewailed the fate of the young man who was believed to be sleeping beneath the The young lady had previously disappeared from Cleveland and returned to Rutland. A day or two after Williams' "death" he, too, appeared at the home of the girl, a marriage was celebrated, and the parties started upon their wedding tour. This have not been heard from, and it has been | lano to be, he is but a fair specimen of the known for some time that the fascinating and accomplished "William Sheldon," who married Miss Barron, and the drowned sow the seed of social strtfe between the and the same parties. hours, delivering a speech of great power and eloquence.

He arraigned the Radical party of the Nation for their many flagrant violations of Constitutional Law, and challenged any Republican to point to one act of that party which would justify it in asking the support of any intelligent voter. He alluded to the promise of Gen. Grant to give the country peace, and conclusively showed that the peace promised had not been extended.

The speaker continued to show that even now, there was no offer of peace.

It is impossible in a brief space like this to give a just report of Gen. Ransom's able and exhaustive speech. It was pronounced by many to have been the best effort ever made in this section. One thing certain, it made votes for the cause of right.

The Radicals have been despondent since its delivery, and all the efforts of their leaders have been powerless to arouse them to activity. Gen. Kansom departed on Monday last

Last, but not least of the pleasant recollections of the Schuctzenfest, is the splendid lager, cold as ice, abundant passes, most of them Bullock's political friends. The most curious transaction of this kind was where the State Road paid gaged in teaching in that place. THE GERMAN SCHUETZENFEST-WAIZER FRANZ' GRENADIER GUARD'S BAND-THE BRE. MEN LINES_THE PEA-BODY INSTITUTE, &c.

BALTIMORE, July 23, 1872.

Dear Journal:—I have just returned from Germany without having had the trouble of crossing the ocean. any one visiting the Belair Park might well have fancied himself in "Vaterland." Baltimore is said to contain a population of 80,900 Germans, and a large proportion of them thronged the park, drawn by the attractions of the Schuetzenfest, and the music of the "Kaizer Franz Grenadier sible effort to array the Southern blacks Guard's" band, of Berlin. The Park, which is quite extensive, is owned by the Schnetzen Association, which have ornamented it very tastefully, and have erected handsome and spacious buildings, among which is a very large banque hall, a dancing hall, armory, music, pavillions, &c. On the present occusion, numerous booths had erected for the sale of refreshments.

opening of every fresh keg of lager, the consequence was a perpetual chime from morning till inidnight. The band, which was the chief attraction, numbers, it is said, fifty-one members, but only forty-five were present for duty. Their uniform is very plain, though it presents a neat and soldier-like appearance. It consists of a dark blue tunic with one row of smooth brass buttons, bearing no device, not even the number of the regiment. The cuffs and collar are relieved by facings of red cloth with a strip of gold lace, and the shoulders are ornamented with gold lace and fringe, instead of epaulets. Each man wears a short artillery sword suspended from a white waist belt; but what contributes more than anything else to their martial appearance is the beautiful helmet of highly polished black patent leather, with a spread gilt eagle in the front, a gilt spike on the top, and gilt scale chin strap and other ornaments. The effect of these helmets in groups is exceedingly picturesque. Herr Saro, the leader of the band, is certainly an accomplished musician; some pieces of his composition are very brilliant and beauti-He wields his baton without any score before him, and seems to know every note that is coming. In appearance he is very much like our live and irrepressible friend Heinsberger, except that he has light hair and beard, and wears a moustache in addition to the side-whiskers. The band were selected evidently for their talents, not their looks; not that any of them are ill-looking at all, but they differ extremely in size. Some are bearded "like the pard," and many look like beardless boys. best looking of them is named Albert Fiehrig, a giant of some six feet six, and broad in proportion, with laughing blue eyes, auburn hair, whiskers and moustache, a complexion which any lady might envy, and a real jolly English face. His good humored appearance seems to make him a favorite. and the moment he entered the grounds, he was seized upon by some Teutonic friends and carried to a beer stand where he immediately put him outside of an immense quart-glass of Weiss-beer; movfew steps further, he repeated their corporeal dimensions. I wish I had the time to describe, at ength, the animated and picturesque appearance of the Schuetzer grounds at night, with thousands of colored lanterns among the trees, rockets and Bengallights, illumina-ting the scene and revealing the happy group of delighted spectators. I cannot, too highly, praise the genuine good humor, the quietness, order and courtesy that characterize the Germans in all their social enjoyments. Not a loud or boisterous word was heard, not an oath, nor disturbance. The men, nearly all of whom belong to the working classes, were there with their wives and children, amusing themselves together reasonably, and in moderation, and I could not help lamenting the difference between them and other races whose habit is to leave their wives to mope at home, to assemble to drink gated penitentiaries of a million years couldn't beat it. Such infinite variety of the only loud words, cursing and threats of bodily violence that I heard were in the purest Erglish, and proceeded from some unmistakably American youths who had evidently imbibed to much corn juice. I need not add that the final and supreme enjoyment was the dance, especially the waltz, danced as Germans only can dance. Young men and maidens crowded the floor of the dining room in which the thermometer must have been at least 100 degrees, and it made me perspire merely to look at them from the outside of the windows. The performance of the band was magnificent. Not being a dilettante, but merely a lover of music, I cannot go into a technical criticism, but I can say that the execu-tion was splendid, and the music delight-Evans reported $4 50 as the receipts of ful. Yours truly,

Mr. Greeley and the Carpet-Baggers. Though published before, Mr. Greeley' opinion of the carpet baggers, will bear telling again and again. Shortly after his Texas travels, Mr. Greeley spoke in New York, saying:

The thieving carpet-baggers are a mean pack. They do exist there. I have seen some of them; they are fellows who crawled down South in the track of our armies and generally at a safe distance to the rear; some of them in the sutler's wagons, and some with cotton permits in their pockets; and they ingratiated themselves with the negroes—a simple, credulous, ignorant set of men very ready to follow any who profess to be champions of their cause, and so some of them got elected as Senators and Representatives, and some as judges, sheriffs, &c.; and there they stand right in the public ey stealing, plundering, some of them with their arms around the negro and their hands in his pockets—(laughter)—and the public looks at them and does not look at the honest men, and calls them carpet baggers. They are pious men, too, these thieving carpet-boggers, and are greatly concerned about the salvation of the black man's soul. "Let us pray," they say— (great laughter at Mr. Greeley's imitation of the tone of these saints)—but they spell pray with an e. (Renewed laughter.)— They obeyed the apostolic injunction to pray without ceasing. Fellow-citizens, the time has been and still is when it was perilous to be known as a Republican, or an abolitionist in the South; but it never called a blush of shame to a man's cheek there. They got into the Legislature. They issued bonds and formed improvements. The improvements were not made and the bonds went into their own pockets. (Laughter.) But you will say, gentlemen, that we have such at the North Yes, we have, and I know many of them—(laughter)—but it is this, that the South was without money almost without friends, these fellows came there to rob when there was ng to steal, or very little. ing the last shinplaster off a dead man's eyes. They were recognized not only as thieves but as enemies. Here the men who steal are at least our countrymen; so at Albany, Trenton, or Harrisburg those who steal do not carry the money out of the State as these fellows do. The South was not merely beaten, but it was very much astonished; they have not got over the amazement of their defeat yet. What they see of us they see in these robbers, and they view the North with jaundiced eyes, representing to them disgrace, and the greatest obstacle to the ascendancy of Republican principles are these fellows,

Colored Men Read. Sella Martin, a prominent colored man in Louisiana, has addressed a letter to the New York Tribune, in which, among other things, he says:

The Federal office-holders have more ime and facilities for reaching our race than any other class, and they use their opportunities, first of all, to discredit the loyalty of all colored men who are independent of them, and next, to put the most ignorant colored men from the country on the Parish Committees, headed by a white carpet-bagger, and into conventions dominated by the custom house at New Or leans. Our friends should know of these facts for another reason. When this State is carried for Greeley and Brown the result s likely to be credited to our white friends entirely. This would be unjust. The colored man is the forlorn hope in the coming contest. If Greeley does not get at least a fourth of our vote he will not win. I think he will get at least twenty thousand out of the eighty-five thousand colored votes of the State. Such force, led by Pinchback, who combines in himself nearly all of the best elements of leadership, when added to the Liberal and Reform vote, will sweep the State. the revolt from Grantism is made by the most intelligent portion of the colo.ed people here. During General Grant's term, he had held sway over the minds and hearts of the colored people of the State simply as the head of the Republican party. They questioned neither his past political record nor his present acts. He was the best leader they had, and they sought for no other. But since Mr. Greeley's nomination, the more intelligent of them argue somewhat in this vein: "Mr. Greeley is the apostle of the abolition press; General Grant is simply the official leader of the party that Mr. Greeley founded. Mr. Greeley has never taken back anything he said in favor of the negro; General Grant has never recalled an appointment unfavorable to the negro. Mr. Greeley says what he thinks; General Grant keeps whit e thinks to himself. Mr. Gr. eley is supported by Julian, Tilon, Sumner, and many other Abolitionists; Grant is upheld by Conkling, a proslavery aristocrat, and Morton, an old time Democrat, Greeley has made the Democratic party drop their opposition to our rights; Grant's Congress was afraid to pass rights; Grant's Congress was afraid to pass the Civil Rights bill. Greeley is in favor of each State managing its own political conventions and elections; Grant supports the interference of Federal officials. Greeley is in favor of harmonious relations between the white and the colored people of the South: Grant keeps officials in power tween the white and the colored people of the South; Grant keeps officials in power who will not allow the colored people of the South to come in contact with the native whites. When Greeley blunders he blunders into kindly deeds; Grant's blunders into kindly deeds; Grant's blunders are all sinister ones. In short, all Grant's claims are of a military character, and so are the dangers threatened by his continued rule. These are their general reasons, and I think they are good ones for abandoning Grant and supporting Greeley.

the State.

The other thing I wanted to say was that the revolt from Grantism is made by the most intelligent portion of the colo.ed people here. During General Grant's term, he had held sway over the minds and hearts of the colored people of the State simply as the head of the Republican party.

personal of partisan prejudice. Mr. Sumne contrasts the two candidates. Greeley was bor with a military commission; one was trained as a civilian, the other as a soldier.— Horace Greeley stood forth as a reformer and an abolitionist; the President enlisted as an abolitionist; the President enlisted as a pro-slavery Democrat, and at the election of James Buchanan, fortified by his vote all the preten-sions of slavery, even the Dread Scott decision. Greeley, from early life, was carnest and con-stant against slavery, full of sympathy with the colored race, and always foremost in the great battle for their rights.

Such supporters are a very poor recommendation. He says it is idle to say that Horace Greeley and the Republicans which nominated him at Cincinnati are any less Republican because Democrats unite with them in the support of cherished principles and the candidate whojrepresents them. Mr. Summer says the hardihood of political labsehood reaches its extreme point when it is asserted that under Horace Greeley the freedmen will be reenslayed of his honest life, is an insult to reason; it is none the less idle to suppose that Democrats supporting Horaco Greeley, expect or desire that he should depart from those principles which are the glory of his character. They have accepted the Cincinnati platform, with its two-fold promises, and intend in good faith to maintain it.

Gentlemen, in thus answering your two inquiries, I have shown why you, as colored fellow-citizens, and also all who would uphold your rights and save the colored race from indignity, should refuse to sanction the re-election of the President, and put your trust in Horace Greeley. I ought to add that with him will be associated, as Vice President, Gratz Brown, whom I have known for years as a most determined abolitionist. The two together will determined abolitionist. The two together will carry into the National Government an unswerving devotion to your rights, not to be dis-turbed by partisan dictation or sectional preju-dice. Besides, all this which may fitly guide you in determining between the two candidates, the United States, and part of the country, your welfare is indissociated with that of the whole country, where all are prospering, you will be gainers, therefore. While justly of the whole country, where all are prospering, you will be gainers, therefore. While justly careful of your own rights, you cannot be indifferent to the blessings of good government; it is for you to consider whether the time has not come for something better than the sword, and whether a character like Horaco Greeley does not give stronger assurance of good government than can be found in the insulter of the colored race, already famous for the rings about him, and his plain inaptitude for civil life.

Speaking now for myself, I have to say that my vote will be given for Greeley, but in giving it; I do not go for the Democrats, nor amI any less a Kepublican. On the contrary. I am so much of a Republican that I cannot support a candidate whose conduct in civil life shows an incapacity to appreciate Kepublican principles; candidate whose constants. It is a princip whose administration is marked by acts of linquency, especially toward the colored rights of which the allegations, on the

Mr. Sumner's letter creates intense excitement in all circles, and some depression among the Radicals. While it is claimed that this letter will not enable the Southern negroes to break from their Leagnes and the despotism of the carpet-baggers, supported by ruffians of their own race, its effect among the more intelligent and free negroes of the North will be surprising; and that however it may effect the State elections at the South, it is admitted that it makes Grant's defeat for the Prosidency sure.

That little skedaddle he made out of Fredericksburg, during his brief butter operations in Old Virginia, early one morning, brought his active fighting career to a speedy termination. Then he contrived to get ordered out West, into Ohio, where he fancied the wicked Rebels would not appear. But so soon as there was a chance for a fight, he managed to get ordered to New Hampshire on a political mission. He was court-martialed, no doubt much to his own gratification, and would have been drummed out of the service as a coward and braggart but for the interference of his patron, Ex-Gov. Gilmore. 'Two little feet grew weary,
One sultry summer's day,
And we tied them with snow-white ribbons.
Leaving them by the way;
There was fresh clay on the door step
That starry summer night,
For loving feet had tracked it,
From this grave on the bright hill's height.

From this grave on the bright hill's height."

Little Janie is no more! Closed forever the sweet eyes that were wont, like April, to smile, even through tears—folded the white hands upon the snowy bosom and silent the loving lips. A sweet-engaging, yea, "a pleasant chi'd," was the little one whose death is here recorded. Ever ready and willing, she never lingered for a second bidding, but sprang with affection's warmth to obey the call of love. Her many little loving ways will long be remembered by all who were intimate with her child-life, but by none more than they who have for years daily led her youthful mind to drink at the stream of Knowledge.

GREELEY'S LETTER OF ACCEPTANCE.

He Accepts the Nomination Upon Platform "Incontestably Republican and Emphatically Democratic."

NEW YORK, July 23.

The following is Mr. Greeley's letter, accepting the Baltimore nomination, in reply to the letter of the committee appointed to notify him thereof:

NEW YORK, July 18, 1872. GENTLEMEN: - Upon mature deliberation it seems fit that I should give to your etter of the 10th instant some further and fuller response than the hasty unpremeditated words in which I acknowledged and accepted your nomination at our meeting on the 12th instant.

That your convention saw fit to accord its highest honor to one who had been prominently and pointedly opposed to your party in the earnest and sometimes angry controversies of the last forty years is essentially noteworthy. That many of you Liberal Republicans should present another county recently gave birth to four children, candidate for President, and would more rapidly have united with us in the support of Adams or Trumbull, Davis or Brown, is well known. I owe my adoption at Baltimore wholly to the fact that I had already been nominated at Cincinnati, and that a concentration of forces upon any new man had been proved impracticable.

Gratified as I am at your concurrence in the Cincinnati nomination, and certain as I am that you would not have thus confired upon by some unknown individuals curred had you not deemed me upright while passing through Capitol Square, but and capable, I found nothing in the circumstance calculated to inflame vanity or nourish self-conceit. But that your Conention saw fit to reasirm the Cincinnati platform is to me a source of the profoundtsatisfaction. That body was constrained to take this step by no party necessity, real or supposed. It might have accepted the candidates of the Liberal Republicans upon grounds entirely its own, or it might ive presented them as the first Whig convention did Harrison and Tyler, without adopting any platform whatever. That it chose to plant itself deliberately, y a vote nearly unanimous, upon the ful-st and clearest enunciation of principles which are at once incontestably Republican and emphatically Democratic gives trustworthy assurance that a new and ore auspicious era is dawning upon our ong distracted country. Some of the best ears and best efforts of my life were de-Carolina, Hon. M. P. O'Connor, and Gen. ous because respect for constitutional objections constrained me to act for the most art on the defensive in resistance to the fusion, rather than in direct efforts for the extinction, of human bondage.

Throughout most of these years my vison was uncheered, my exertions were rarely animated by even so much as a hope that I should live to see my country copled by freemen alone. The affirmance y your Convention of the Cincinnati plat orm is a most conclusive proof that not merely is slavery abolished, but that its spirit is extinct; that despite the protests of a respectable, but isolated, few, there remains among us no party and no formi-A BASE AND COWARDLY SLANDER.— dable interest which regrets the overthrow or desires the re-establishment of human culating the charge that Mr. Ashe, whilst bondage, whether in letter or in spirit. Having done what I could for the complete emancipation of the blacks, I now insist on the full enfranchisement of all my white countrymen. Let none say that the ban has just been removed from all but a few hundred elderly gentlemen to whom eligibility to office can be of little consequence. I protest against the disfranchisement of a State, presumptively of a number of States, on ground so narrow and technical as this. The fact that the same Senate which refused his seat proceeded to remove his disabilities after that seat had been filled by another, only serves to place in a stronger light the ndignity to North Carolina, and the arbitrary capricious tyranny which dictated it.

From the N. Y. Evening Telegram. THE CONTEST IN NORTH CAROLINA The Lowerys and all the Ruflians for Gen. Grant.

The State of North Carolina will have an election on the first of August next. It will be the first State election since the latest and last national convention of this year of grace chose its candidates for President and Vice President of the United States, and as such it is looked upon with intense interest by both rival parties, the iberals and the radicals. We are not disposed to be over sauguine of the result, and yet are inclined to believe that the radical party in the State will be beaten so far that in the future years their chances of regaining power will be few and far between. The issues are not so close drawn as people here imagine. There is a palpa-ble difference between the aim and sentiment of the Democratic and the radical party in the State as there is between night and day, between the angels of light and the devils of darkness. On the one hand, the best and worthiest people of North Carolina, they to whom the great interests of the commonwealth are of paramount importance, and worthy of the most sacred regard and patriotic devotion, are debarred from their share of management in the concerns of their native State. On the other hard, the very dregs of the the carpet bag element, reputable and most unmitigated native scoundrels such as the Lowery gang, such as Holden, a characterless scrib oler; such as Caldwell, a renegade, not alone to his party convictions, but to his home and friends; such as Settle, the late Chairman of Grant's Convention at Philadelphia, who deemed it a highly honest proceeding to draw $10,000 from the Treasiry for services never performed, and such as all the native bred scalawags and robpers who shout hosannas for the adminisration. All these make up the opposition to the Liberal Republican and Democrat party. No respectable man would trust the loan of a dollar to any of the rapacious set of blackguards who ruled the State in Holden's time, and still coutinue in part to misrepresent it.

Yet, though the self same rascals squan dered the resources and bankrupted the credit of the State in Wall street and elsewhere by a system of wholesale and scandalous plunder, they have put themselves forward and are accepted by Grant and his corrupt tools as the representatives of North Carolina. Now we find Henry Wilson, alias Jeremiah Colbath, the one string political banjo player of the age; Boutwell, the corner grocery financier from Massachusetts, whom Butler forced Grant, as we all know, to take into his Cabinet .-Well, there are other lights, but they are feeble. They will win none to their standard by conviction of the honesty and patriotism of Grant's administration, while we have no doubt whatever Ithat thousands of honest Republicans now attached by the party links alone to the regular organization will break loose at the very first chance, and that chance will come in just two weeks from yesterday. We want no better evidence of the desperate straits in which Grant's party finds itself than the utterly criminal and daringly outrageous proceeding given in the letter of Congressman Beck, of Kentucky, concerning the transmission of $250,000 in government funds to Raleigh to help in carrying the election for Grant. This caps the climax of Grant's numberless offences bution of that quarter million dollars, and the first slice we expect will be handed over to the Lowery gang, who, whatever else they may be, are good, sound radicals. and have helped before this to call many a local election for the party. The recent interruption of the sittings of the Board of Arbitration occurred through the necessary re-examination of English law on questions regarding the construction of privateering vessels in British ports and also investigation as to whether the British Admiralty used sufficient diligence in preventing these vessels from going to sea. Of the four cases advanced, England repudiates three, and in the fourth she contends that the Admiralty acted promptly, although the police hesitated to take the proper steps to prevent her departure. The court is also considering the question of allowing interest on the amounts awarded. PROSPECTUS FOR 1872. FIFTH YEAR. Representative and Champion

be the handsomest l'aper in the World. "Give my love to the artist workmen of THE has always been for usefulness,"-Henry Ward THE ALDINE, while issued with all the regularity, has none of the temporary or timely interest characteristic of ordinary periodicals. It is an elegant miscellany of pure, light and graceful literature, and a collection of pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black Although each succeeding number affords a fresh pleasure to its friends affords a fresh pleasure to its friends, the real value and beauty of THE ALDINE will be most appreciated after it has been bound up at the close of the year. While other publications may claim superior chearness as compared with rivals of a similar class, THE ALDINE is a unque and original conception—alone and unap-proached—absolutely without competition in price or character. The possessor of the vol-ume just completed cannot duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its The labor of getting THE ALDINE ready on the press is so great that reprinting is out of the question. With the exception of a small number specially reserved for binding, the edition of 1871, is already exhausted, and it is now a scarce as well as valuable book. NEW FEATURES FOR 1872.

ART DEPARTMENT. The enthusiastic support so readily accorded to their enterprise, wherever it has been introduced, has convinced the publishers of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications. That so many weakly wicked sheets exist and thrive is not evidence that there is no ist and thrive is not evidence that there is no market for anything better—indeed the success of THE ALDINE from the start is direct proof of THE ALDINE from the start is direct proof of the contrary. With a population so vast, and of such varied taste, a publisher can choose his patrons, and his paper is rather indicative of his own than of the taste of the country. As a guarantee of the excellence of this department, the publishers would beg to announce during the coming year, specimens from the following twintent American artists:

minent American artists: Granville Perkins, W. T. Richards, F. O. C. Darley, Wm. Hart. Victor Nehlig, Wm. Beard, George H. Smillie, Aug. Will, James H. Beard, R. E. Piguet, Wm. H. Wilcox, James D. Smillie. Frank Beard, Paul Dixon, These pictures are being reproduced without

These pictures are being reproduced without tegard to expense by the very best engravers in the country, and will bear the severest critical comparison with the best foreign work, it being the determination of the publishers that THE ALDINE shall be a successful vindication of American taste in competition with any existsng publication in the world. LITERARY DEPARTMENT. Where so much attention is paid to illustra-tion and get up of the work, too much dependand and get up of the work, too much dependenced on appearances may very naturally be feared. To anticipate such misgivings, it is only necessary to state, that, the editorial management of the ALDINE has been intrusted to Mr. Richard Henry Stoddard, who has received assurance of assistances from a host of the most popular writers and poets of the country.

THE VOLUME FOR 1872 ill contain nearly 300 pages, and about 250 fine engravings. Commencing with the number for January, every third number will contain a beautiful tinted picture on plate paper, inserted as a frontispiece.
